Dear customers, here we collect information to avoid penalties from the mass-media regulatory authorities (in Russia these functions are performed by the Federal Supervision Agency for Information Technologies and Communications, FSAITC).

It should be remembered that Russian legislation provides for the protection of your rights in formal interaction with FSAITC (including the legality of monitoring unblocked resources on the Internet, calling procedures for drawing up a protocol, etc.).

At the same time, the rules of the current legislation protect the factual background, whether it is an assessment of the punishment lawfulness for a violation if there is no such liability under the applicable law, and placing resources in the register of prohibited sites https, although the decision of the Court suggested that http have to be affected
